RESTAURANTS IN TOWN

---

ARGENTINE PARRILLAS: STEAK HOUSES

La Cabrera

Undoubtedly one of the most popular restaurants in Buenos Aires right now. Half portions will be fine for even the hungriest, especially as 10-12 interesting side plates land on your table. Its sister restaurant, La Cabrera Norte, half a block away, has helped to cut waiting times a little, but reservation need to be made several days in advance.

📖 5099 Cabrera Street, Palermo (and branches)

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.parrillalacabrera.com.ar

Cabaña Las Lilas

Located in Puerto Madero, this restaurant is widely considered the best parrilla in Buenos Aires. The menu pays homage to Argentine beef, which comes from the restaurant's private estancia (ranch). They also offer a wide variety of wines with more than 900 labels.

📖 516 Alicia Moreau de Justo Avenue, Puerto Madero.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.laslilas.com.ar

El Mirasol de la Recova

A traditional steak house located at the heart of Recoleta, only a few blocks away from the Hotel. This restaurant was the launching platform of the best Argentinean wines appeared on the latest years.

The restaurant remains open throughout the afternoon.

📖 1032 Posadas Street, Recoleta.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.elmirasol.com.ar

Le Grill

A modern restaurant located opposite the River, in the newest neighborhood of BA, it has a courteous view of the Women Bridge, designed by Spanish architect Santiago Calatrava. The impacting grill, at the entrance of the restaurant, is the soul of Le Grill...the star of the menu is the dry age meat.

📖 876 AM de Justo Avenue, Puerto Madero

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.legrill.com.ar

La Brigada

This San Telmo favorite is a refined version of the traditional parrilla, serving up excellent cuts of meat alongside spicy chorizo, grilled provoleta cheese, various salads, and crispy vegetable fritters. Regulars swear that their offal selection is among the best in the town, particularly their crispy kid chinchulines (chitterling). But also a good place to try the excellent molleja (sweetbread). A good range of malbec wines will bring a blush to your cheeks in the pleasantly snug dining room.

📖 465 Estados Unidos Street, San Telmo.

Don Julio

Located in Palermo, Don Julio remains standing on the corner of a cobbled street, doing what it's always done and doing it well. The beef is carefully selected and waiters are put through their paces at local wine schools. The menu doesn't veer far from the usual parrilla staples, but the quality is a cut above the average. Add to that an exemplary wine list and you understand why regulars swear it's the best parrilla in town.

📖 4691 Guatemala Street, Palermo.

ARGENTINE MODERN CUISINE

Tegui

This swanky new hideout is tucked discreetly behind a (deliberately) graffitied wall and unassuming black door. Ring the bell and saunter into this home-turned-restaurant, which dazzles with its contemporary decor, accented by all things black and white. A wine cellar spans the entire front wall, forming an impressive backdrop to the larger-than-life ceilings. The open-air kitchen set towards the back of the restaurant allows diners to peer in on the catering process, and the VIP room, which borders the kitchen, presents guests with an exclusive dining experience compliment of head chef Germán Martitegui. A simple menu of three to four main courses typically includes meat or fish and changes weekly depending on the season and availability of ingredients.

📖 5852 Costa Rica Street, Palermo.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.tegui.com.ar

Tarquino

Tucked away on a quiet block in the chic Recoleta neighborhood, the eclectic décor in the 40-seat restaurant hints at the atypical dining experience ahead: walls of faux fur in the front bar create a cozy feel, and a 75-year-old ficus tree juts through a glass roof in the main room.

The executive chef, Dante Liporace, 35, proposes modern Argentine cuisine using techniques he learned under Ferran Adrià at the now-shuttered El Bulli in Spain, such as molecular gastronomy.

📖 1963 Rodriguez Peña St, Recoleta

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.tarquinorestaurante.com.ar

Unik

Restaurant Unik is one of the most resonant culinary openings 2011 in Buenos Aires, for its cuisine and its striking design. Its owner is the architect Marcelo Joulia, a specialist in the design of restaurants, with 30-year career in Paris and Shanghai.

In charge of the kitchen are chefs Fernando Hara and Spanish Yago Márquez.

📖 Soler 5130, Palermo

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.unik.pro

Chila

With the prestige of belonging to Latin America's 50 Best Restaurants in 2013, Chila will enchant you with the new Argentinian cuisine. The famous Chef Soledad Nardelli focuses on offering modern dishes using typical products from all over Argentina. You may choose the Three Steps Menu or Seven Steps Menu.

📖 1160 Alicia M. de Justo, Puerto Madero

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.chilaweb.com.ar

Pura Tierra

Hidden in Belgrano neighborhood, Chef Martín Molteni, named Chef of the Year 2008, takes the lead in this petit bistro offering the best dishes of traditional Argentine cuisine 📖 1167 Tres de Febrero Street, Belgrano.

Paraje Arévalo

On a quiet Palermo Hollywood corner lays just one of the most quaint, delicious little restaurants you ever did see. Simple in décor, Chef Matías Kyriazis focuses on unique and inventive and high quality food, with keen eye on presentation.

📖 1502 Arevalo Street, Palermo

Casa Cruz

Perfectly located on Uriarte Street, right next to chic Isabel Bar, it offers typical sophisticated Argentinian cuisine along with a soft Jazz sound in the background. The wines list as well as drinks menu guarantee a good variety.

📖 1658 Uriarte Street, Palermo.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.casa-cruz.com

Sucre

Contemporary cuisine. Remarkable local Chef, Fernando Trocca, will introduce you to very innovative and modern dishes and desserts. 'Modern industrial' doesn't begin to capture the atmosphere at this cavernous, but thoughtfully appointed, space. Sucre also offers up one of the best wine lists in the city.

📖 676 Sucre Street, Belgrano.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.sucrerestaurant.com.ar

El Bistró del Fin del Mundo

Its cuisine rescues the gastronomic traditions of Latin America, from the Inca Empire to Patagonia and from the Pacific to the Atlantic. The room is white decorated with unicorns with red eyes; the menu presents traditional dishes from the immigrants who came to this continent. It is a tribute to our history through Latin American products

📖 445 Martha Salotti Street, Puerto Madero

For more details and pictures of the place, please visit: www.faenahotelanduniverse.com

Aldo's Vinoteca

The newest, and perhaps most ambitious, wine-centric restaurant in Buenos Aires, is Aldo's Vinoteca, which opened in June at the Moreno Hotel in San Telmo, featuring a 42-page wine list. Aldo Graziani, the owner, is a former vice president of the Argentine Sommeliers Association and he has assembled a staff of nine sommeliers for his new spot.

📖 372 Moreno Street, San Telmo

For further details and pictures, please visit: aldosvinoteca.com

Leopoldo

Leopoldo is a brand new restaurant where the ambiance stands out. Precise lighting, great music, colorful walls, a beautiful deck are some of the details that are very well taken care of. Located in the romantic Cerviño Boulevard, offers contemporary cuisine and modern dishes that will make this a once in a lifetime experience.

📖 3732 Boulevard Cerviño, Palermo

Basa – Basement, Bar & Restaurant

Located near downtown Basa is a great option for drinks as well as dinner. It offers a leisurely ambience, modern and casual. This trendy restaurant is a hot spot for locals and tourists alike.

ARGENTINE SIGNATURE CUISINE

Caseros

Balanced between San Telmo and Barracas, there's nothing equivocal about this sophisticated yet understated brasserie. Owner-Chefs Santiago Leone and Silvina Trouilh know what it's all about: simple, nourishing, flavorsome food. If menus came with sound effects, Caseros's menu would open to the thrum of a bustling market and the sound of grannies humming at their chopping boards. The fish and meat are both fresh and locally sourced. The unpretentious French country decor adds to the sense of dining in a much-loved, cozy family kitchen.

📖 486 Caseros Avenue, San Telmo

Café San Juan

Its name may be misleading for some. This is not just a "Café". This restaurant serves modern dishes made with a variation of ingredients, which are all described on the board: pickled armadillo, rabbit pâté with plum jam and balsamic vinegar, fresh oysters and marinated hare.

📖 450 San Juan Avenue, San Telmo.

Las Pizarras

If Las Pizarras' colorful, quirky decor doesn't draw you in, the constantly changing selection of gastronomic delights on its oversized blackboards (pizarras) will. This new, stylish but laid-back restaurant has no menu, just a list of creative concoctions made from whatever owner-Chef Rodrigo Castilla has bought fresh from the market that day.

Advanced reservations recommended.

📖 Thames 2296, Palermo

ITALIAN CUISINE

Sottovoce

A distinctive Italian restaurant, walking distance from the hotel. Second location at the stylish Puerto Madero neighborhood.

📖 1098 Libertador Avenue, Recoleta.

Piegari

Outstanding Italian cuisine, with an emphasis on seafood and pastas. Homemade spaghetti, six kinds of risotto, pan pizza, veal scallops, and black salmon ravioli are just a few of the mouthwatering choices.

and 1042 Posadas Street, Recoleta.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.piegari.com.ar

Il Matterello

A crisp, clean, cantina-style La Boca eatery where a mixed plate of warm and cold antipasti serves to enliven the taste buds in preparation for an excellent al dente tagliatelle with a puttanesca sauce or a truly sumptuous fazzoletti alla carbonara (wide pasta with an eggs, cream, cheese and bacon sauce).

📖 517 Martín Rodríguez Street, La Boca (first store open)

📖 5100 Gorriti Street, Palermo

Amici Miei

Amici Miei is an original alternative for gourmets among the wide variety of modern Italian cuisine styles, based on Mediterranean tradition. Classic Italian techniques are used for preparing and cooking their tasteful dishes.

Casal de Catalunya

El Casal is a special jewel. Its construction began in 1886 and it continued until 1927, when it was attached to the neighboring building and the façade was reformed in order to characterize the building, in the search of its own architectural language to express its nationalism. The restaurant serves Catalan food, from the sea, garden and mountain, with their typical sauces. The kitchen is managed by Chefs Yanina Andreani, Damián Cicero and Mauro Gentile, a trio of young men and women who all belonged to the team of Catalan Chef Joan Coll.

📖 863 Chacabuco Street, San Telmo.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.casal.org.ar

Sagardi

The Spanish Group Sagardi arrived to Buenos Aires opening a Vasque cuisine restaurant and a boutique hotel.

Based on the traditional idea of the Vasque Country of siederías and tabernas, Sagardi serves typical "pintxos". The regular menu offers great dishes, mostly grilled beef and fresh fish from the north of Spain.

📖 319 Humberto Primo Street, San Telmo.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.sagardi.com.ar

FRENCH CUISINE

La Bourgogne

This is a French restaurant with a French chef, housed in a French-style building and located in the area of Buenos Aires that is the most flagrantly Parisian. You may order the sea bream with butter sauce and caviar or the grilled veal with thyme flowers or the rabbit 'crunch' with mustard sauce. The service is formal.

📖 2047 Ayacucho Street, Recoleta.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.alvearpalace.com

Brasserie Petanque

A typical French brasserie, located in one of the former neighborhoods of Buenos Aires, San Telmo. This place used to be an old restaurant for locals, and still has that same spirit. The menu is thought to please everybody, with a wide range, traditional and French food.

Chef Sebastian Fouillade once worked with Alain Ducasse.

Club Francés

Both Restaurant and Bar maintain the original style that made them one of the most distinguished spots in Buenos Aires. The kitchen is overseen by the prestigious Chef Ramiro Martínez.

📖 1832 Rodríguez Peña Street, Recoleta.

Resto at Sociedad Central de Arquitectos

Resto is a strange sort of place: set in a stark, canteen-styled room at the back of the Central Architect's Society's arcade, it is reminiscent of a museum cafeteria. This is the kind of restaurant where the quiet ambient music and white walls allow you to enjoy of an intense conversation. It is highly respected among Buenos Aires's top restaurants.

📖 938 Montevideo Street, Recoleta.

JAPANESE CUISINE

Osaka

It has born as restaurant with a creative cuisine without restrictions. This restaurant combines Peruvian, Thai, China and Japanese food in a trendy ambient matching the sense of the food. There is an ample wine list - though who wants a glass of torrontés when you could be sipping an exotic cocktail like the Thai Chi (a heady blend of sake, orange, cranberry, and cinnamon).

Puerta Uno

A 'hidden door' bar located near the area of Barrio Chino. Loud music, dimmed lighting and open-air patios make this secret nightspot a buzzing venue for an evening out on the town.

📖 1667 Juramento Street, Belgrano.

For further details and pictures, please visit: www.puertauno.com

Congo

Possibly the king Bar in Palermo Viejo. The true magic of Congo resides in its spot-lit summer garden, which ranks among the city's best outdoor drinking spaces. Expect to queue after midnight.

📖 5329 Honduras Street, Palermo.

Carnal

Alfresco drinking is what it's all about at Carnal, particularly during the warm nights of summer, when swarms of frisky locals invade the roof terrace and downstairs bar. We recommend to either book ahead or get there for an unusually early 10.30pm.

DISCOS & CLUBS

Crobar

Southern sister to the North American super clubs of the same name - draws a regular crowd of devoted party people. A network of overhead balconies, walkways and VIP areas are cantilevered over the main dance floor, with four well-attended bars serving up decent drinks at a premium.

International DJ Sets on Friday night.

📖 Libertador Avenue y Marcelino Freyre Street, Palermo

Tequila

This recently opened spot at Belgrano neighborhood has already become a classic in the Buenos Aires night. This is the place to see and be seen, always full of actors, sport players and other celebrities. The only way to get in? You must buy a table that may cost up to AR$7,000.

📖 Costanera Avenue y La Pampa Street, Belgrano

Jet Lounge

An exclusive private lounge and club located on the Costanera, Jet Lounge has played host to some of BA's most exclusive events, including fashion parties, premieres and high-profile music events. In the early evenings it's a relaxed lounge-bar, complete with cocktails, sushi and a beautiful marina view. As the night continues, the vibe peeps up with house tunes.

📖 4801 Rafael Obligado, Costanera.

Rumi

Rumi's strict door policy and queues from around 2am make it a good idea to turn up early for dinner first. Once inside, you'll be privy to one of the most glamorous club scenes in BA. Big names grace the DJ booth, but bigger names mingle on the dancefloor - a favorite haunt for many a model, celeb and young socialite.

The Basement Club

This Recoleta classic is always full, and is one of the few clubs that gets busy earlier on, especially on Thursdays. It's also one of the best places in BA to be during the key nightlife hours of 3am to 7am, when the place is rocking with a mix of locals, tourists and some of the most up-for-it clubbers in BA.

📖 1220 Rodriguez Peña Street, Recoleta.
