A PARISIAN ICON

Since its opening in 1928, the Prince de Galles ranks among the most unique hotels in Paris. A genuine Maison de Luxe of exceptional warmth, the Prince de Galles has become the rendez-vous for the Parisian establishment and international travelers desirous of an intimate landmark within the Golden Triangle. All around the patio's magnificent mosaic unravel scenes intrinsic to the art of living in timeless elegance.

GUESTROOMS & SUITES

Custom-made furniture, a decor of Makassar ebony, floors of Saint Laurent marble, manufactured wallpaper... Under the leadership of Pierre-Yves Rochon, the most beautiful Houses of artisanal know-how (Delisle, Pierre Frey, Craman Lagarde) worked to restore this landmark into an exceptional backdrop of 115 rooms and 44 suites. In every unique space, the attention to detail is unparalleled – in service as well as decoration.

The rooms, each viewed as part of a private home, combine the original style of this jewel of Art Deco and the finest of modern comforts. On the hotel's top floor, the vast, private terrace of l'Appartement Parisien offers stunning views of the City of Lights.

The Prince de Galles proposes 159 rooms and suites:

- 46 DELUXE ART DECO ROOMS – FROM 30 TO 38 M<sup>2</sup>
- 23 MOSAIC SUITES – FROM 38 TO 51 M<sup>2</sup>
