

MEETINGS & EVENTS

The Dixon, Tower Bridge started life back in 1905 as the Tower Bridge Magistrates' Court. Designed by John Dixon Butler, a celebrated architect yet mysterious figure of the late 1800's, it housed courtrooms, a police station, and prison cells. The whole building has been fully restored into a hotel, conserving key details and highlighting its Edwardian heritage. Here you can find our two meeting rooms: The Chambers and The Dock.

THE DOCK

Enter via the very staircase that led prisoners from the cells to the courtroom. Filled with natural light from the original Edwardian bay windows, this is the perfect room for everything from meetings to exclusive dining.

Dimensions (m): 7.2w x 4.8l x 2.4h (29.4 sq.m).

Capacity: Boardroom: 14 | Private dining: 16.

THE CHAMBERS

A private hire meeting room to get your guests talking. With restored wooden panelling and a 100-year old roof lantern that floods the room with natural light, this event space is the ideal canvas on which to paint a spectacular gathering.
