ACCOMMODATION

Ideally located a few steps from St. Mark's Square, Baglioni Hotel Luna is a short distance from the city's most famous historical attractions. This historic Venetian hotel dates back to the 12th Century and it is recorded as having given shelter to the Knights Templar in 1118. In 1574 it was already known as Locanda della Luna.

During the 18th Century the building was decorated with frescoes by Pupils of Giambattista Tiepolo.

91 spacious, tastefully furnished rooms and suites some with large terraces overlooking the Lagoon and San Marco Basin.

MARCO POLO BALLROOM

Gian Battista Tiepolo's sophisticated artistic style is the inspiration for this charming, stately ballroom.

Two hundred square meters, enveloped in breathtaking eighteenth century frescos depicting larger-than-life scenes in brazen colours.

The room is flooded with natural light from large windows, while the high ceiling, crystal chandeliers, gold leaf decorations and lavish crimson fabrics evoke an aristocratic ambience, ideal for receptions and gala Events.

ARAZZO ROOM

Along the corridor towards the Caffè Baglioni, tucked away behind luxurious silk drapes, the Sala Arazzo lends itself most easily to intimate meetings, small gatherings or as a breakout room. The room is named after the large naturalistic tapestry that magnificently adorns the wall at one end.

It is furnished with a handsome period style dining table on floors laid with precious Italian marble and walls draped in silk. The sala has direct access to the adjacent bar and terrace where guests are invited to revel in this enchanting waterside wonderland.

MURANO ROOM

The Sala Murano is a refined meeting room located on the second floor of the hotel, able to host up to sixty guests. The mellow green hues of the textured wall paper combine with a magnificent sky light in the centre of the ceiling to create a welcoming atmosphere for company meetings and small functions.

An exquisite marble staircase leads from the ground floor foyer to this elegant yet versatile sala, designed to adapt to a wide variety of uses and needs.
